The Silver Dream

Our Fortress flies again at Snetterton Heath, Station 138, The Falcons' Nest.

At the very top is a B-17 climbing away on a mission. Supporting the B-17 are four columns, representing contrails coming back from the engines. Those four columns increase in size as they reach the ground and are representative of the support needed to put the B-17 up there. Each column represents one of the four squadrons comprising the 96th Bomb Group.

The Memorial at Snetterton Heath as designed by Martin Rance is constructed of stainless steel by Sinclair Steel Fabrications and is located along the old North South runway now serving as the entrance road to the Octagon Motorsports racing circuit track

The plinth is inscribed with these words:

338TH
